SUCCESS. WE'LL MAKE SURE YOU HAVE IT.

The D'Amore-McKim School of Business MS in International Business (MSIB) is designed to provide talented, driven students like you with the exposure to the global business environment that will distinguish you in the workforce.

This program can be completed in one year of full-time study or two years of part-time study while providing the opportunity to live and learn in the heart of Boston; home to one of the largest, most vibrant, and highly-regarded global marketplaces in the U.S. and the economic and cultural hub of New England.

The curriculum is designed to meet the needs of young professionals with bachelor degrees in business or business-related programs providing them with opportunities to connect business concepts to real-world issues. Twenty-one credits are graduate business courses and six elective credits may be taken in Sociology or Political Science. Three credits are from a 10-day International Field Study course that offers immersion in the practices and culture of a country or region outside of the U.S. The course is taught primarily in the country or region of interest and involves a mix of classes, company site visits, and cultural activities.

Develop critical skills to handle the opportunities and challenges in organizations and businesses operating internationally.

D'Amore-McKim faculty will help you achieve career success by combining global strategic knowledge with integrated and shared experiences. Graduates of this master's program will be culturally sensitive with an international orientation, business acumen, and the analytic skills needed to best prepare you to navigate an increasingly interconnected and fast-paced world.

"MSIB is an interesting program where you are able to interact with students from different nationalities, preparing you for your future career in this global world."
