THE KNOWLEDGE YOU NEED, THE SKILLS EMPLOYERS WANT

It's time to build the business knowledge you need and the skills employers demand. That's why the D'Amore-McKim School of Business reimagined an MS in Management degree that will prepare you for the changing world of work on your terms—the MS x program.

Our new MS x program offers a truly personalized learning experience. You can customize your degree and acquire the specific skills necessary to achieve your professional goals. You'll choose four core courses, each representing a foundational business area: managing organizations, data-driven management, strategy and growth, and finance and operations. This prepares you with foundational skills and amplifies your existing knowledge and experience through higher-level courses.

All of your coursework will align with your skills and experience, as well as your interests and goals, allowing you to chart your path to success.

LEARN BY DOING

A hallmark of learning at Northeastern is applying what you learn in the classroom to real business challenges. Project-based coursework will empower you to use your knowledge and become a more creative, resilient, and global thinker.

YOUR PATH TO AN MBA

After completing your MS x, you will have earned 30 credits that you may be able to apply to an eligible MBA program at Northeastern. As a Northeastern alum you'll be eligible for a Double Husky Scholarship, which will reduce your remaining MBA tuition by 25 percent.

Tucker Marion, Associate Professor of Technological Entrepreneurship, D'Amore-McKim School of Business, Northeastern University

Northeastern's D'Amore-McKim School of Business prepares people and organizations to thrive in a global business environment of rapid-fire change driven by converging digital technologies. The school develops leaders and innovators who are proficient in human, data, and technological literacies; global in outlook and entrepreneurial in mindset; and invested in lifelong learning for themselves and their teams.

Northeastern University

Founded in 1898, Northeastern is a global research university and the recognized leader in experience-driven lifelong learning. Our world-renowned experiential approach empowers our students, faculty, alumni, and partners to create impact far beyond the confines of discipline, degree, and campus.

Our locations—in Boston; Charlotte, North Carolina; London; Portland, Maine; San Francisco; Seattle; Silicon Valley; Toronto; Vancouver; and the Massachusetts communities of Burlington and Nahant—are nodes in our growing global university system. Through this network, we expand opportunities for flexible, student-centered learning and collaborative, solutions-focused research.

Northeastern's comprehensive array of undergraduate and graduate programs—in a variety of on-campus and online formats—lead to degrees through the doctorate in nine colleges and schools. Among these, we offer more than 195 multi-discipline majors and degrees designed to prepare students for purposeful lives and careers.
