LEAD EXPERTLY IN A GLOBAL BUSINESS WORLD

Today's business environment is global and interconnected—and increasingly driven by data and technology. Our MS in International Management program prepares you for the unique challenges of leading in this ever-shifting climate by teaching you to manage global and virtual teams, navigate cultural differences, and understand global business issues and supply chains.

Personalize your program.

Your core curriculum will focus intensely on leadership skills, cultural agility, and workforce management. You'll also customize your program as you choose from 65+ eligible D'Amore-McKim graduate elective courses. This flexibility will help you pursue the career path that excites you most, whether it's advancing your position in your current industry or reinventing yourself in a new field.

All your courses will be taught with Northeastern's signature focus on the tech economy, giving you a firm grounding in data and analytical tools that elevates you above the competition.

Power your learning with experience. As a Northeastern student, you can expect experience to shape your learning every step of the way—it's what we do best! You might take on a real-world consulting experience in your field of choice.

Or apply for an elective course abroad to immerse yourself in the business practices and economy of another country. You may opt to serve as an advisor for a startup with Northeastern's student-led venture accelerator. As you follow your passion, you'll find incredible opportunities at every turn to amplify your classroom learning.

Northeastern's D'Amore-McKim School of Business prepares people and organizations to thrive in a global business environment of rapid-fire change driven by converging digital technologies. The school develops leaders and innovators who are proficient in human, data, and technological literacies; global in outlook and entrepreneurial in mindset; and invested in lifelong learning for themselves and their teams.

Northeastern University

Founded in 1898, Northeastern is a global research university and the recognized leader in experience-driven lifelong learning. Our world-renowned experiential approach empowers our students, faculty, alumni, and partners to create impact far beyond the confines of discipline, degree, and campus.

Our locations—in Boston; Charlotte, North Carolina; London; Portland, Maine; San Francisco; Seattle; Silicon Valley; Toronto; Vancouver; and the Massachusetts communities of Burlington and Nahant—are nodes in our growing global university system. Through this network, we expand opportunities for flexible, student-centered learning and collaborative, solutions-focused research.

Northeastern's comprehensive array of undergraduate and graduate programs—in a variety of on-campus and online formats—lead to degrees through the doctorate in nine colleges and schools. Among these, we offer more than 195 multi-discipline majors and degrees designed to prepare students for purposeful lives and careers.
